Morocco

Morocco was occupied by the French for 44 years between 1912 and1956. Between 1948 to 1951 when it was still occupied by the French, 28,263 Jews left Morocco. Did the French expel them or did they leave on their own since the indigenous people of Morocco could not have expelled them since they were under occupation? People need to be reminded the Jews of Morocco were the descendants of the Jews of Spain and Portugal who were expelled and settled in North Africa.

Tunisia

Tunisia was occupied by the French for 76 years between 1881 and 1956. Between 1948 and 1951 when Tunisia was still occupied by the French, 13,293 Jews left Tunisia. Did they not leave on their own since the indigenous people could not have expelled them or did the French expel them? The Jews of Tunisia were not indigenous to Tunisia but they were the descendants of the Iberian Jews that were expelled from Spain and Portugal in 1492 and 1496 respectively.

Algeria

Algeria was occupied by the French for 132 years between 1830 and 1962 but between 1948 and 1951 when it was still occupied by the French, 3,810 Jews left Algeria. Who expelled them? It could not have been the indigenous population since they were occupied, therefore either they left on their own or the French expelled them - and you know what the answer is, don't you? Between 1948 and 2017, 30,134

Jews left Algeria and 90% of them wound up going to France because they were French citizens.

Iran

The Shah of Iran was ruler of Iran for many decades until 1979 and he was super friendly to the Jews and the protector of the Jews. But between 1948 and 1951 when the Shah was still in power, 21,910 Jews left Iran. Do you have any doubt in your mind that those Jews left on their own and not because the Shah expelled them?

Egypt

Egypt was colonized by the British for 100 years between 1882 and 1922 but the British were still firmly in control of Egypt until 1954 when the Nasser group arrived. When Egypt was supposed to be independent, they had put a worthless king on the throne who was not more effective than if they had put on the throne a stuffed animal. That was why Britain and the United States conspired to flood Egypt with European Jews and they brought in 25,000 Jews in 1944 and they were getting ready to ship 40,000 more (according to official US State Department records). These European Jews who were inserted on the land of Egypt without the consent of the people of Egypt had begun to call themselves Egyptian Jews. Between 1948 and 1951, 16,024 Jews left Egypt. Did the worthless king who was completely obedient to the British expel them or they left on their own?

Turkey

According to the head of the ADL who made a statement a few months ago, he said that the Jews of Turkey are the descendants of those who came from the Iberian Peninsula 500 years ago and not indigenous to Turkey. Turkey was the first country to recognize the Zionist entity in 1949 even though in 1948 the European Jews committed horrific crimes including rapes and massacres and expulsion of 90% of the indigenous population. This Muslim country was rushing to embrace the country that was established on the land of the Palestinians that were expelled and massacred. Between 1948 and 1951, 34,547 Jews left Turkey. The chances that they were expelled by the Turkish government is zero.

Libya

Libya was colonized for 30 years by the Italians between 1912 and 1942 and then by the British between 1942 and 1951. Between 1948 and 1951 when Libya was still colonized by the British, 30,972 Jews left Libya. Who expelled them? Most certainly not the British, therefore they left on their own. Is that not true?

Yemen

Britain colonized Southern Yemen between 1939 to 1967 for 128 years. Northern Yemen was ruled by a king and he did not object to the Jews moving from North Yemen to South Yemen to ship them to Palestine. The European Jews were very interested in bringing in the Yemeni Jews because they were the most illiterate, the poorest and the European Jews figured that they would be working like donkeys for them. You have to remember that the European Jews knew nothing about farming therefore they desperately wanted the Yemeni Jews to show them how to grow crops. When Palestine was partitioned, the people of Southern Yemen reacted against the Jews and they went around attacking Jewish property. But the Jews of Yemen left Yemen way before the partition. The Yemeni Jews left on their own and nobody can show me any information at all where any of the Yemeni government had ever wanted to expel them.

Iraq

In 2007, the BBC had an article with the title of : Israelis from Iraq remember Babylon. What was described in that article was the happy lives the Iraqi Jews left behind in in Iraq. the European Jews did not like it and the BBC compromised by adding negative information about Jewish life in Iraq. Professor Avi Shlaim in a 2007 interview expressed his love for Iraq and explaind how they had happy and wonderful lives in Iraq with no problems at all.

An Iraqi Jew by the name of Naeim Giladi published a book in 2004 titled Ben Gurion's Scandals where he describes how Zionist Jews went around Iraq bombing and murdering Jews as a deliberate tactic to force them to flee and it worked. In just one year between 1951 and 1952, 130,000 Iraqi Jews left Iraq therefore the bombings of Jewish places resulted in what the the bombers expected which was the stampede of the Iraqi Jewish out of Iraq.
